I went off this morning to Rozoy-en-Brie to shoot at the Chateau de Breuil, where Jacques Bemberg and Comte Charles Montalembert were joint hosts. There were a couple of Spaniards there as well as Charles' cousin, another Comte de Montalembert, Prince André Poniatowski and others. We had a wonderful day's sport and killed about 175 pheasants, which was somewhat more than we had at the Caraman Chimays'.

I arrived home in time for dinner, to which Monnet and Tommy came. Afterwards we discussed European integration in the light of what had happened in the French Parliament.
